

Many of the countries above mentioned, belong to the family or branches of the family of Magindano. The inhabitants hold their possessions by a kind of feudal tenure, being vassals to their lords. The districts I have named, are all on the sea coast.

1775.
May.

About seven leagues W. N. W. of the Point Bagancan, opens the spacious harbour of Kamaladan, governed by Datoe Affem, brother in law to the Rajah Moodo. His place of residence is called Se Tappo.

Ten miles S. S. W. of the harbour, lies the island of Lutangan. I am apt to think this the island named St. Iago, in a Spanish manuscript map, exhibited by Mr. Dalrymple. It belongs to Rajah Moodo, and abounds with cattle. I have coasted the east side of it, where I found irregular soundings, and shoal water two or three miles from the shore.

I shall now give a description of the harbour of Kamaladan.*

Having passed Baganean Point, which lies in latitude $7^{\circ} 25'$, you will see the islet of Malibagas: when it bears N. W. or S. E. it is like a jockey's cap.

When it bears east two miles, you will discover a point bearing north, which makes the S. E. part of the harbour of Kamaladan. At the same time, or perhaps sooner, according to the height of the ship, clearness of weather, &c. you will perceive some rocks, just above water, bearing N. N. W. About N. by E. from this spot of

* Plate XXI.

C c 2

rocks,